7. VASVARY Letter [ ] received a letter from (Gen.) VASVARY written 14 August which stated that on 13 August 1955 a man came to his apartment in Bregenz announcing that he was from the Hungarian Legation in Vienna and bearing a letter from VASVARY's cousin, who as an orphan had been raised by Vasvary. The letter painted a glowing picture of conditions in Hungary, enclosed a snapshot of Budapest, and pleaded with VASVARY to "come home". The unidentified man pointed to the destitute fashion in which VASVARY was presently living and promised that he had nothing to fear if he returned and that he would be treated lavishly. (Note: It should be recalled that VASVARY's wife and family still live in Hungary too.) The man's auto had Vienna plates but the number could not be read. He was about 35 years of age, with black hair and dark complexion and was very polite. The car was either an Opel or a small Ford of modern make and of ivory-yellow color. The man also desired the names of other Hungarians in Bregenz who might be interested in re-defecting. The man had certain knowledge of the work of the HNO and of its financial backing by the HNO. The man promised to bring word from VASVARY's family at the next meeting. He also promised that an exception to the rule which forbids an amnesty being granted to a general would be made in the case of VASVARY. The man is to return to Bregenz about the 23rd of August for VASVARY's final answer. VASVARY also feels that the man will probably come to Salzburg and contact [ ] even though [ ] has no family remaining in Hungary. VASVARY also reported the incident to the Bregenz police.
